

Major General (R) Nick Justice

MG (R) Nick Justice served over 42 years in the U.S. Army and retired in 2012

MG (R) Nick Justice commanded U.S. Army Research, Development and Engineering Command (RDECOM) and Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, from December 4, 2009, to February 10, 2012. Prior to commanding RDECOM, MG (R) Justice was the Program Executive Officer for the Program Executive Office Command, Control, and Communications - Tactical at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

With over 20 years in acquisition, MG (R) Justice served as Project Manager for the Transportation Coordinator's Automated Information for Movement Systems and Project Manager for Force XXI Battle Command Brigade and Below (PM FBCB2). As PM FBCB2, he fielded over 1,000 Blue Force Tracker systems to soldiers in Operations Iraqi Freedom and Enduring Freedom and transformed the force while in contact. Previous assignments included serving as the Sixth Allied Tactical Air Force as Chief of Project Management for Command and Control.

He earned a Bachelor's degree in History from the University of Maryland, a Master's degree in Institutional Management from Pepperdine University, and a Master's degree in International Relations from Salve Regina College. His military education includes the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, the Senior Acquisition Course, the Adjutant General Basic and Advanced Courses, Systems Automation Course, and the United States Naval War College.

MG (R) Justice's military awards include Legion of Merit (2 OLC), Bronze Star Medal, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal (3 OLC), Army Commendation Medal, Army Achievement Medal, and the Army Staff Identification Badge.

After retiring, MG (R) Justice was appointed executive director of PowerAmerica, a public-private power electronics manufacturing institute at N.C. State University's Centennial Campus, in January 2015.

MG (R) Justice remains active in the defense community - engaging with defense and industry communities, notably discussing topics like Army intelligence and human resources challenges at events such as the 2024 US Army Intelligence and Security Enterprise Industry Day and the Human Resources Command's Conversation with Industry Event.

Nick Justice is married to Anna, and they have two sons and six grandchildren.